We invite you to hear Dr. Gregory Votolato, lecturer at the Victoria and Albert Museum and the Royal College of Art where he has taught auto design to students from all over the world. Through this lecture, Greg will transport us to the glamorous era of travel, the 1920's and '30s. He will highlight sea, air, and of course, land featuring stylish modes of transport, not least the Rolls-Royces we drive.

During that period of enormous technological, economic, and political change, citizens of the developed world enjoyed their journeys in the most artfully conceived and comfortable vehicles and vessels ever made. Yet everything was experimental, so travel was still an adventure. We all know a little about that, even today, as we recreate this fabulous period in our cars. Let's Zoom on this trip together until we can reunite to enjoy a real one.

Greg Votolato has agreed to do this lecture as a special favour to the Narvells who are delighted to present his expertise and enjoyable presentation with the 20-Ghost Club. They hope this will appeal to our members and a good number will wish to log in.

18:00 Thursday 20 May. Dr. Votolato should speak for about an hour.

Please confirm that you wish to join this lecture with your RSVP to narvell@btopenworld.com. You will receive a Zoom link a few days prior to the event.
